Senate Concurrent Resolution 27

Senator Moffett offered the following resolution:

S. C. R. No. 27, Relating to accomplishments of the Texas Cotton Research Committee.

Whereas, the Texas Cotton Research Committee, composed of the President of The University of Texas, the President of The A. & M. College of Texas and the President of Texas Technological College, has heretofore been created by the Forty-seventh Legislature, 1941, and

Whereas, through the activities of said committee, a pattern for integrating and coordinating agricultural research throughout the State has been developed, which gives direction and force to such undertaking at a minimum cost, and collaterally provides a medium for the interchange of technical information, and the co-operative use of research facilities, among the institutions of this State, as well as with institutions in other States, and with Federal agencies, and also with privately financed research agencies, all of which precludes costly duplication of effort and facilities, and

Whereas, the Texas Cotton Research Committee has achieved national recognition as one of the most effective research organizations dealing with the problems of cotton, and

Whereas, through the activities of said committee, very significant research progress has already been made which fully justifies the expectations upon which the initial legislation was predicated, and because of which, the economic position of cotton in Texas has already been enhanced:

(a) Through the evolution at the University of Texas of a special chemical treatment of cotton fibers, accompanied by the development of suitable spinning technique for their usage, which definitely promises to make Texas cottons competitive with longer staple eastern growths, and

(b) Under the sponsorship of the committee at Texas Technological College, unspun cotton fabric compositions (i. e., wall paper, curtains, imitation leather, etc.) have been evolved through the application of synthetic resins to clean unspun cotton, which treatment dispenses with the need for expensive processes of spinning and weaving in the fabrication of articles which have a wide range of practical utility, and which opens new fields of utilization for Texas cottons in markets which formerly were not interested in them, and

(c) The Cotton Research Committee has carried on research effort, at the Texas A. & M. College in the field of cottonseed products, with highly profitable results, with respect to producing a more digestible and nutritive protein concentrate for the livestock industry, and at the same time obtaining greater oil recovery per ton of seed, both of which are of tangible monetary benefit. These are definite accomplishments that yield annual price increases per ton of seed to the cotton growers of Texas in an amount double the sum of all of the appropriations theretofore made to the committee, and in fact will reach the magnitude of more than $1,000,000 per year, for the industry in this State; now therefore be it

Resolved, that the Texas Cotton Research Committee, because of its demonstrated success, be and is hereby directed to enlarge the scope of its activities so that said committee shall also serve and be known as the Chemurgic Industrial Research Committee of Texas, charged with the responsibility of making a survey of the need for research into the industrial processing and marketing possibilities of the various agricultural products and other raw materials of Texas. Said committee shall recommend specific fields of research to those State institutions represented on said committee, for the purpose of harmonizing their research efforts. The said Chemurgic Industrial Research Committee may also designate specific assignments to other public institutions or to private institutions when they have expressed a willingness to join in the program. It shall additionally report to future sessions of the Legislature its estimates of the need for expanding chemurgic industrial research and shall make the first report not later than the opening day of the Fiftieth Legislature.

MOFFETT
SULAK

The resolution was read.

By unanimous consent, the Senate considered the resolution immediately.

The resolution was adopted.
